

Justice for Families Program Reporting Instructions

The Violence Against Women Act of 2000 requires grantees to report on the effectiveness of activities carried out with grant funds. To meet this Congressional reporting requirement and the requirements of the Government Performance and Results Act, the Office on Violence Against Women (OVW) requires all grantees to report data related to their OVW funded activities. Grantees should answer questions based on the activities engaged in under this grant during the current reporting period.

This document details the Semi-Annual Performance Report questions and instructions for the Grants to Support Families in the Justice System Program (Justice for Families Program). The performance report is due to OVW in JustGrants within 30 days of the end of the current reporting period (for the period ending June 30, the deadline is July 30; for the period ending December 30, the deadline is January 30). The performance report data will first be entered by the grantee into an online, interactive performance reporting form in the VAWA IMPACT Tool. Once the report has been completed online, the tool will generate a PDF for the grantee to download and submit into JustGrants.

All grantees should read each section to determine which questions must be answered based on the activities engaged in under the grant during the current reporting period. Optional sections begin with a question that asks if Justice for Families Program funds were used to support the respective activities during the current reporting period. If grant funds were not used for an activity during the 6-month reporting period, the grantee should select “no.” If the response is no, the rest of that section or subsection is skipped.

All information should reflect activities for the current reporting period only. The activities of volunteers or interns may be reported if they are coordinated or supervised by Justice for Families Program grant-funded staff or if Justice for Families Program funds substantially support their activities. If a grantee has not been able to collect or report data as requested on the performance reporting form, please discuss this in the last question within the Narrative section.

General Information

This section is required. All grantees must complete this section.

1. Date of report

Enter the date this form is completed.

2. Current reporting period

Enter the current reporting period and year for the current 6-month reporting period being reported on. A new reporting form must be filled out for each reporting period.

3. Grantee name

Enter the "Entity Legal Name" and "Doing Business As" name (if different) that can be found at the top of your JustGrants Funded Award Page.

Example:

University of Maine System dba Cutler Institute

4. Grant number

Enter the federal grant number assigned to your OVW program grant. This number can be found at the top of your JustGrants Funded Award Page.

5. Point of contact

Provide the name, agency name, mailing address, telephone number, and e-mail address for the contact person responsible for the day-to-day coordination of the grant. This person should understand what the grant funds were used for and should be familiar with the performance reporting information submitted.

6. Type of funded organization

Check the box for the category that best describes the type of agency receiving the Justice for Families grant.

7. Is this a faith-based organization?

Indicate whether the grantee is a faith-based organization.

8. Is this a culturally-specific community-based organization?

Indicate whether the grantee is a culturally-specific community-based organization. A culturally-specific community-based organization is one that:

- Has a focus on any underserved population, i.e., has as its primary mission to address the needs of an underserved population or has developed a special expertise regarding a particular underserved population;
- Is not merely providing services to an underserved population, but is providing culturally competent services designed to meet the specific needs of that population;

- At a minimum, has some expertise or demonstrated capacity to work effectively on domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking or acquires that expertise through collaboration with another entity.

9. Does this grant specifically address and focus on tribal populations?

Select “yes” if the Justice for Families Program grant specifically focuses on tribal populations and indicate which tribes or nations the grantee agency serves or intends to serve. Report only on tribes or nations intentionally served. Do not include a tribe or nation if they are served incidentally by the program.

Example 1:

A victim services organization is located on the Nez Perce reservation. There are members of over a dozen other tribes living on the reservation, and the grantee provides services to anyone who lives on the reservation that needs services. Select “yes” and report that the grant specifically addresses and focuses on the Nez Perce tribe, but do not report other tribes whose members reside on the reservation.

Example 2:

A grantee agency used Justice for Families Program funds to provide training events for law enforcement in a non-tribal area. Police from a nearby reservation attend a training event. This training did not address tribal codes, nor was there an intention to specifically train tribal police, even though they are welcome to attend the training. Select “no” because the grant does not specifically address or focus on tribal populations, even though tribal populations are welcome to attend Justice for Families Program-funded activities offered.

10. Does your grant support the creation of products in languages other than English or provide services in languages other than English?

Select “yes” if the agency used Justice for Families Program funds to provide services or products in languages other than English. Selecting “yes” will prompt the grantee to list out any languages. Please be specific and name the relevant languages. Select “no” if the agency does not use Justice for Families Program funds to provide services or products in languages other than English.

11. What percentage of your Justice for Families Program grant was directed to each of these areas?

Report the area(s) addressed by the Justice for Families grant during the current reporting period and estimate the approximate percentage of funds (or resources) committed to each area. This question is required even if the grantee was not able to spend grant funds during the reporting period. The grantee may choose how to calculate this. Grantees should consider training, staff time, victims services, etc. when determining how to calculate the percentage of funds directed to each area.

Example:

A victim services agency receives Justice for Families funding to offer legal advocacy services for victims/survivors of sexual assault and domestic violence. During the current reporting period approximately 25% of the Justice for Families funded clients are sexual assault victims/survivors and the rest are victims/survivors of domestic violence. If all services received are approximately the same to all clients, one could estimate that approximately 25% of the project's funds are directed to sexual assault and 75% to domestic violence. If the services received by domestic violence victims/survivors are more comprehensive than those received by sexual assault victims/survivors, the percentage of funds directed to domestic violence would be greater.

Definition:

Sexual assault: Any nonconsensual sexual act proscribed by Federal, Tribal, or State law, including when the victim lacks capacity to consent.

Domestic violence: Includes felony or misdemeanor crimes committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim under the family or domestic violence laws of the jurisdiction and includes the use or attempted use of physical abuse or sexual abuse, or a pattern of any other coercive behavior committed, enabled, or solicited to gain or maintain power and control over a victim, including verbal, psychological, economic, or technological abuse that may or may not constitute criminal behavior, by a person who is a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, or person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim, is cohabitating, or has cohabitated, with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, shares a child in common with the victim or who commits acts against a youth or adult victim who is protected from those acts under the family or domestic violence laws of the jurisdiction.

Dating violence: Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship is determined by the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the people involved in the relationship.

Stalking: A course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for their safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional distress.

Child sexual abuse: Any nonconsensual sexual act proscribed by federal, tribal, or state law when the victim lacks capacity to consent as a legal minor under the age of 18.

Staff Information

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to fund staff time (at your agency, at a partner agency, contractors, or stipends) during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program funds were used to pay for staff salary/wages. Justice for Families Program-funded staff may be located at an agency other than the grantee agency. Also consider all stipends and contracted staff.

2. Staff

Report the number of full-time equivalent (FTE) staff funded under this grant during the current reporting period. Report staff by function(s) performed, not by title or location. Include employees who are part-time and/or only partially funded with these grant funds as well as consultants/contractors. FTEs are reported in decimals, not as percentages.

Report grant-funded overtime. If an employee or contractor was employed or utilized for only a portion of the reporting period, prorate appropriately. Report all FTEs in decimals, not percentages. If staff members fall into two or more categories of job descriptions, divide their time as appropriate. One FTE is equal to 1,040 hours—40 hours per week multiplied by 26 weeks.

What is an FTE?

An FTE (full-time equivalent) is the unit of measurement used to report the hours worked by Justice for Families Program-funded staff. A 100% Justice for Families Program-funded staff person who worked full time for the entire 6-month reporting period will be reported as 1.00 FTE.

Prorating FTEs

FTEs must be prorated whenever grant funds paid for a portion of a staff person's time, a contractor, stipend, and when staff are hired partway through the reporting period. Any staff time that represents less than a full-time person working the entire reporting period and paid entirely with Justice for Families Program funds should be prorated to reflect the portion directly supported with Justice for Families Program funds.

What is 1.00 FTE at your agency?

If the Justice for Families Program-funded agency considers 40 hours per week to be full-time, then 1.00 FTE is equal to 1,040 working hours in a 6-month reporting period: 40 hours per week multiplied by 26 weeks. If the grantee agency considers something other than 40 hours to be full-time, determine how many hours per week is considered full-time and multiply that number of hours by 26 weeks. This will be the total number of hours in a 6-month reporting period for 1.00 FTE.

Example 1:

If the Justice for Families Program-funded agency considers 35 hours per week to be full-time, then 1.00 FTE is equal to 910 working hours in a 6-month reporting period: 35 hours per week multiplied by 26 weeks.

Example 2:

If the Justice for Families Program-funded agency considers 37.5 hours per week to be full-time, then 1.00 FTE is equal to 975 working hours in a 6-month reporting period: 37.5 hours per week multiplied by 26 weeks.

Choosing a Staff Category

Report staff by function/activity performed, not by job title or location of the employee. If a staff member spends their Justice for Families Program-funded time conducting different types of activities, separate their FTE value into those different staff categories. First calculate the total FTE of that staff person based on how many Justice for Families Program-funded hours they worked each reporting period. Then split up their FTE into the staff categories by estimating the percentage of their time performing each job function.

Staff Category Functions Defined

- Administrator: Staff time spent in administrative positions including, but not limited to financial manager, executive director, and shelter manager.
- Attorney (does not include prosecutor): An attorney or lawyer who is legally acting on behalf of a victim/survivor. Activities conducted by a Justice for Families Program-funded attorney will be captured in the Victim Services and Legal Services Sections.
- Abuser Intervention Program staff: Staff who work within a Justice for Families Program-funded offender rehabilitation program. These Justice for Families Program-funded activities will be captured in the Abuser Intervention Program Section.
- Counselor: Professional counselors or peer counselors who provide emotional support, guidance, problem solving, etc. to victim/survivors. Justice for Families Program-funded counseling activities will be captured in the Victim Services Section.
- Court personnel: Court officials and other staff within the court (including judicial assistants, reporters, law clerks, and bailiffs) who are subject to the judge's direction and control. This does not include the attorneys or lawyers in a judicial proceeding. A grantee should fill out the Courts Section if court personnel time is supported by Justice for Families funding.
- Information technology staff: Staff conducting activities related to technology maintenance, such as building or maintaining computer infrastructures of the company, assisting users with computer and software issues, handling software updates and license renewals and technology contracts, ensuring compliance with quality standards, or overseeing data storage.
- Legal advocate (does not include attorney or paralegal): A staff person who assists victims with civil or criminal legal issues including preparing paperwork for protection orders; accompanying a victim to a protection order hearing, administrative hearing, or other civil proceeding; and all other advocacy activities within the civil justice system. This category does not include the work of attorneys, paralegals, or governmental victim advocates (i.e., victim assistant/victim-witness coordinator) or non-governmental victim advocates. These Justice for Families Program-funded activities will be captured in the Victim Services Section.
- Outreach worker: Staff time spent conducting unsolicited outreach to victim/survivors to inform them about services available to them.
- Paralegal: Staff assigned tasks by attorneys/lawyers, such as to review and organize client files, conduct factual and legal research, prepare documents for legal transactions, draft pleadings and discovery notices, interview clients and witnesses, and assist at closings and trials. Generally, paralegals may not advise clients or represent clients in court, take depositions, or sign pleadings. Activities conducted by a Justice for Families Program-funded paralegal will be captured in the Victim Services and Legal Services Sections.
- Probation officer/offender monitor: Staff time spent advising and monitoring the movements of criminal offenders who are on probation, recommending rehabilitation programs for offenders, or conducting monitoring activities to ensure offender compliance with the conditions of probation. These Justice for Families Program-funded activities will be captured in the Probation/Offender Monitoring Section.

- Program coordinator: Staff time spent coordinating specific aspects of the program. This category includes staff functioning as a training coordinator, a prevention/education coordinator, a victim services coordinator, and/or as a legal services coordinator.
- Security staff: A person who provides for the security of the agency or visitors/clients of the agency.
- Supervised visitation/exchange staff: Responsible for coordinating all aspects of assigned cases in the Supervised Visitation and Supervised Exchange Program, i.e., conducting pre-visit orientations with participating parties, scheduling visits, supervising visits and exchanges, parent education, providing coaching/support to improve parent/child relationships, preparing visitation notes and reports, maintaining case files, etc. Provide referrals and case management to identified clients.
- Support staff: Staff time spent conducting activities related to administration assistance, bookkeeping, accountant tasks, and/or receptionists' tasks.
- Trainer/educator: Staff time spent training or presenting training material to non-grant funded staff and other professional staff (who may be located at other agencies/organizations). These Justice for Families Program-funded activities will be captured in the Training Section.
- Translator/interpreter: Staff who translate or interpret from one language to another for victims who are receiving services. Justice for Families Program-funded translation and interpretation services provided to victims will be captured in the Victim Services Section. Translation of printed materials such as flyers or training materials will be reported in the Products Section.
- Victim advocate: Staff time spent supporting a victim with accessing needed resources or services, providing crisis intervention and safety planning, and providing support during medical exams. These Justice for Families Program-funded activities will be captured in the Victim Services Section.
- Victim assistant (governmental, includes victim-witness specialist/coordinator): Typically, this is a governmental employee of a law enforcement agency, prosecution office, or court. This type of staff provides victim assessment and coordination/support of case prosecution activities, assists with victim-witness statements, coordinates victim court appearances, and provides victims with court dates. The services provided are generally limited to the period and scope of court proceedings. These Justice for Families Program-funded activities will be captured in the Victim Services Section.
- Other (specify): Responses in the "Other" category should be very specific. Responses such as graduate assistant, contractor, and consultant are not valid, since they do not specify the function performed by the staff person. Some acceptable "Other" category entries include "data analyst" and "evaluator."

FTE Calculation Examples

Example 1:

If you have one full-time receptionist whose salary is 100% funded with Justice for Families Program funds and a full-time bookkeeper whose salary is 25% funded with Justice for Families Program funds, report 1.25 FTE under support staff.

Example 2:

A staff member, whose salary is 100% funded with Justice for Families Program funds, spends approximately 20 hours a week coordinating the victim services program, 16 hours providing victim advocacy, and 4 hours collecting and analyzing evaluation data. Report as 0.50 under “program coordinator”, 0.40 under “victim advocate”, and 0.10 under other as “evaluator.”

Example 3:

During the six-month reporting period, an employee was hired to work full-time and worked only during the last three months of the reporting period. In this case, you would need to pro-rate the FTEs to reflect three months of the six-month reporting period. The correct FTE for that staff person would be 0.50 FTEs, or 3 months/6months.

Example 4:

If you contracted with an information technology specialist for full-time services for two months during the reporting period, report that person as “Information technology staff”, 0.33 FTEs, or 2 months/6 months.

Example 5:

A staff member works 20 hours a week. The staff member spends 10 hours a week coordinating the victim services program, and 10 hours providing victim advocacy. Report this as 0.25 under “program coordinator”, and 0.25 under “victim advocate.”

Training

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to support training activities during the current reporting period?

If Justice for Families Program funds were used for training during the current reporting period, select “yes.”

Training means providing information on sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking that provides professionals (or volunteers acting in the role of professionals) with a tool, skill, or resource that better allows them to support victims.

Do not report on Community Education/Public Awareness activities (activities providing general information) in this section. Providing general information to community members, victims, parents, or the general public is not considered a training activity.

Do not report trainings provided to Justice for Families Program-funded staff in these questions. OVW considers this to be professional development.

2. Live training events

Report the total number of live training events provided during the current reporting period that were either provided by Justice for Families Program-funded staff or directly supported by Justice for Families grant funds. Include both virtual and in-person events. Do not report on pre-recorded (i.e., asynchronous) trainings in this question.

Defining a Training Event

A training event is defined by the intended audience. A training event is not defined by how long the training event lasted. If the intended audience is different for each presentation of material, each presentation is considered a separate event. If the intended audience is the same across multiple presentations (such as at a conference), the presentations are considered one single event for one intended audience.

Examples of Training Events

Example 1: Multiple-day event for one audience

A training was provided to one intended audience over the course of three days. The sum of the material presented over the three-day course was considered the “curricula” which the intended audience was expected to learn. Report this as one live training event in Training Question 2.

Example 2: Multiple-day event for different audiences

A training was provided to three different audiences over the course of a week-long conference. The material presented to each audience was the same material. Report this as three live training events in Training Question 2.

Example 3: Using funds to send non-grant-funded staff to a training

A local agency offered a training on sex trafficking. The agency used Justice for Families grant funds to pay for the cost of sending five non-grant-funded staff to that training. Report this as one live training event in Training Question 2 and report five professionals trained in Training Question 3. Remember, do not consider Justice for Families Program-funded staff for this section. OVW considers training of Justice for Families Program-funded staff to be professional development.

Example 4: Partially-funded trainer

A grantee has a full-time trainer. Half of the trainer’s salary is paid for by the Justice for Families Program grant, and half through other means. All trainings are conducted either in-person or through a live webinar, which means they are live events. Report half of the trainings that the trainer conducted as Justice for Families Program-funded live training events in Training Question 2 and report the number of professionals who attended those events in Training Question 3.

3. Total number of people trained at live training events

Report the total number of people trained at both virtual and in-person live training events that were supported with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period. Justice for Families Program-funded staff who attended training events should not be counted as people trained.

4. Most frequently trained

Report the top three types of professionals trained at the Justice for Families Program-funded live training events. Select the type of professional from the dropdowns. Use the category that is most descriptive of the people who attended the training events. These should be people trained by Justice for Families Program-funded staff or people attending training events that were directly supported with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period. Justice for Families Program-funded staff attending training should not be considered when answering this question.

5. Describe the content of the Justice for Families Program-funded live training events. Discuss the topics addressed in training events reported in Training Question 2. For example, this space could be used to describe the conferences that were reported in Training Question 2 and to discuss the types of presentations at the conferences.

6. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to develop, create, and/or launch pre-recorded trainings during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program funds were used to develop, create, and/or launch pre-recorded trainings during the 6-month reporting period. If a grantee indicates yes, it will prompt follow-up questions to provide more details on these trainings.

7. Number of pre-recorded trainings

Report the number of pre-recorded trainings developed, created, and/or launched with Justice for Families Program funds during current reporting period.

8. Describe the target audience and content of the pre-recorded trainings supported with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period.

Discuss the content topics addressed by the pre-recorded trainings developed, created, and/or launched with Justice for Families Program funds during current reporting period. Describe the intended audiences by stating which types of professionals the trainings were created for.

9. Did you collect any post-training feedback surveys/questionnaires for the Justice for Families Program-funded trainings?

Report yes if Justice for Families Program-funded live or pre-recorded trainings had any post-training questionnaires or evaluations completed.

10. Detail the findings/responses to the post-training feedback surveys/questionnaires.

Provide details about the post-training feedback surveys/questionnaires for the Justice for Families Program-funded trainings. For example, this space could be used to discuss what types of information was gathered through the surveys and if the participants’ knowledge, skills, or perceptions shifted based on the training.

11. Discuss any additional information about Justice for Families Program-funded trainings you would like to share.

Some examples of topics that could be addressed here include:

- If training was provided to law enforcement officers, what changes in law enforcement practices is the grantee hoping to see? For instance, has there been a reduction in dual arrest rates in the community following a training on identifying the predominant aggressor?
- What are some changes to coordinated community response activities that have been adopted in response to Justice for Families Program-funded trainings?
- What are some challenges or barriers the grantee agency has experienced when providing training?

Coordinated Community Response

All grantees must complete this section.

1. Coordinated community response (CCR) activities

Select all agencies/organizations that the Justice for Families Program-funded agency provided referrals to/received referrals from, met with, or engaged in consultation with during the current reporting period. In the last column, indicate the agencies or organizations with which you have a mandatory collaboration for purposes of your Justice for Families grant. If Justice for Families Program-funded staff participated in a task force or work group, check all attendees.

2. Discuss the effectiveness of CCR activities funded or supported by your Justice for Families grant and provide any additional information you would like to share about your CCR activities beyond what you have provided in the data above.

Some examples of topics that could be addressed here include:

- What relationships with other agencies/organizations is the Justice for Families Program-funded agency trying to improve or enhance?
- What changes is the grantee hoping to see within the community because of coordinated community response efforts?
- What systemic issues have been identified as areas for improvement in this community?

Policies and Legislation

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to develop, substantially revise, or implement policies or protocols or to develop or promote State, local, or tribal legislation and policies during the current reporting period?

If Justice for Families Program funds were used to developed, substantially revise, and/or implement policies or protocols, or to develop or promoted State, local, or tribal legislation and policies during the current reporting period, select “yes.” This includes if Justice for Families Program-funded staff worked directly on these activities.

2. Type of organizations/agencies in which policies or protocols were developed, substantially revised, or implemented

Check all the organizations/agencies in which policies or protocols were developed, substantially revised, or implemented using Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period.

3. Describe the protocols and/or policies developed, substantially revised, or implemented with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period.

Some examples of topics that could be addressed here include:

- What successes and challenges/barriers have the grantee experienced when developing, revising, or implementing policies/protocols?
- What systemic issues are being addressed with the newly developed, revised, or implemented policies/protocols?

4. Describe the development or promotion of State, local, or tribal legislation and policies with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period.

If Justice for Families Program funds were used to support the development or promotion of State, local, or tribal legislation and policies that enhance best practices for responding to domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking during the current reporting period, please discuss those activities in the space provided.

Products

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to develop or substantially revise products during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program-funded staff developed or revised products or if Justice for Families Program funds directly supported the development or revision of products. If not, select “no.”

Definition:

- Develop: To create a new product.
- Substantially revise: To make a significant amendment to an existing product.
- Distributed: Number of products actually used during the reporting period.

2. Describe the products developed or substantially revised with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period.

Describe what type of products were developed or substantially revised. Provide details including the title/topic of the product and its intended audience. If the product was translated into a language other than English, please also state what languages the product was translated into (including Braille).

Data Collection and Communication Systems

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to develop, install, or expand data collection and/or communication systems during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program funds or Justice for Families Program-funded staff were used to develop, install, or expand data collection and/or communication systems.

2. Indicate the use of Justice for Families Program funds for data collection and/or communications systems.

Specify how Justice for Families Program funds were used to support data collection and/or communication systems during the current reporting period. Check all categories that apply.

3. Describe the purpose of the Justice for Families Program-funded data collection and/or communication systems.

For example, this space could be used to describe how the data collection and/or communication system improvements will support the agency or will impact agency staff.

Victim Services

In this section, only provide information that represents victims who accepted and/or requested Justice for Families Program-funded services during the 6-month reporting period. Victim services are typically provided by Justice for Families Program-funded staff or are services that grant funds directly paid for. Report all Justice for Families Program-funded victim services provided, including services provided by legal services agencies, victim services agencies, or by staff providing victim services within the law enforcement, prosecution, or court system.

If funds are used to support Justice for Families Program-funded paralegals or attorneys, report the victims that accepted and/or requested Justice for Families Program-funded legal services in the Victim Services Section and then report the legal services they received in the Legal Services Section.

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to provide victim services (including legal services provided by an attorney or paralegal) during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program funds were used to support victim services during the current reporting period. If the grantee funded a victim assistant or victim-witness coordinator within the law enforcement, prosecution, or court system, select “yes” and complete the Victim Services Section to capture that staff’s Justice for Families Program-funded work.

2. Number of primary victims served, partially served, and not served

Report the number of victims who were served, partially served, and not served with Justice for Families Program funds during the current reporting period. Report an unduplicated count. This means that each victim who requested or received services during the current reporting period should be counted only once in that reporting period. Report victims in each reporting period that they request services. Do not report secondary victims in this question.

Defining Served, Partially Served, and Not Served

When determining how to report a victim, consider their choice in accepting or receiving a Justice for Families Program-funded service.

- Served: A victim/survivor should be reported as served if they requested and/or accepted grant-funded services and the program was able to provide all of those services.
- Partially Served: A victim/survivor should be reported as partially served if they accepted and/or requested grant-funded services and the program was able to provide some, but not all, of those services.
- Not Served: A victim/survivor should be reported as not served if the program could not provide any of the grant-funded services that the victim accepted and/or requested.

Definition:

- Primary victim: The sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or child sexual abuse was experienced by the primary victim.
- Presenting victimization: Victims should be counted only once under the presenting victimization. Some victims may have experienced more than one type of victimization, and it may be clear which of those victimizations has led the victim to accept and/or request Justice for Families Program-funded services. When it is not clear which victimization type has led the victim to accept/request Justice for Families Program-funded support services, the grantee/service provider should use their discretion to select which victimization will be considered the presenting victimization for the purposes of this reporting form.

- Unduplicated count: Each victim who requested or received Justice for Families funded services during the current reporting period should be counted only once in Victim Services Question 2 (regardless of how many different times they were served during the reporting period). It is possible for a victim to be fully served at one point during the reporting period and then have their status change to partially served due to requesting additional services that they only partially received.

Example:

A victim requested criminal justice advocacy from the Justice for Families Program-funded victim advocate at the beginning of the reporting period, and then the same victim came back at the end of the reporting period and requested legal assistance from the Justice for Families Program-funded attorney. The grantee was able to provide both services. Although this victim received two different Justice for Families Program-funded services, the grantee will only count that victim once as served in Victim Services Question 2.

When are victims not counted on the form?

Do not report a victim on this form if they:

- Did not request or accept any Justice for Families Program-funded services that they were offered/were eligible to receive;
- Only accepted and/or requested services that were funded by a different funding stream; or
- Are not a primary victim of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, or child sexual abuse.

Example of Served:

A victim of domestic violence called a victim services program looking for help with getting a protection order. The Justice for Families Program-funded legal advocate helped the victim with the paperwork and the filing process, and then also accompanied the victim to the protection order hearing. Report this victim as “served” because the victim received all the Justice for Families Program-funded services they requested.

Example of Partially Served:

A victim of stalking came to the prosecutor’s office to get information about the criminal process. The Justice for Families Program-funded advocate spent time with the victim to explain what the victim could expect when filing for a protection order and to describe the different hearings that would take place. The victim asked the advocate to go to the arraignment with her, but the advocate was already scheduled to be in another courtroom on the date. The advocate referred the victim to a different victim services agency. The victim received information from the Justice for Families Program-funded advocate, but not the grant-funded court accompaniment she requested that are normally provided under the Justice for Families grant. Report this victim of stalking as “partially served” because the victim received some, but not all, of the Justice for Families Program-funded services they requested.

Example of Not Served:

A police officer responded to a sexual assault incident and the victim agreed to allow the police officer to ask the local agency to send an advocate to the hospital with the victim during her examination. Hospital accompaniment is a service provided by the Justice for Families grant. There was not an advocate available at the time requested, so the agency referred the victim to another agency. This would be reported as one victim of sexual assault “not served” because the victim did not receive the Justice for Families Program-funded service requested.

Example of when someone should not be reported:

A Justice for Families Program-funded outreach worker sent out letters to 175 victims of domestic violence based on police reports of domestic violence incidents. These letters were sent to inform victims of services available at the agency. Of the 175 victims contacted through this unsolicited outreach, 35 victims contacted the agency to request Justice for Families Program-funded services. Report the 35 victims who requested Justice for Families Program-funded services in Victim Services Question 2. Do not report on the other 140 victims in this question because they did not accept/request a Justice for Families Program-funded service.

The partially served and not served categories generally have to do with issues within your program that keep you from providing grant-funded services to a victim/survivor who requests those services. If a victim/survivor chooses to discontinue services once they have begun receiving them, then the victim should be reported as “served.” The same is true if a victim/survivor moves, even if they do not inform you, and they are unable to complete the services. When determining whether a victim/survivor is served, partially served, or not served, do not consider services the victim/survivor declined, unless the victim requested a service but found the program rules unacceptable.

3. Number of victims who received Justice for Families Program-funded services for multiple victimizations

Report an unduplicated count of victims reported in the previous question who received Justice for Families Program-funded support for more than one victimization.

4. Select all the additional victimization types, including specific forms of abuse, for which these victims received Justice for Families Program-funded services

Check all that apply.

- Sexual assault: Any nonconsensual sexual act proscribed by Federal, Tribal, or State law, including when the victim lacks capacity to consent.
- Domestic violence: Includes felony or misdemeanor crimes committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim under the family or domestic violence laws of the jurisdiction and includes the use or attempted use of physical abuse or sexual abuse, or a pattern of any other coercive behavior committed, enabled, or solicited to gain or maintain power and control over a victim, including verbal, psychological, economic, or technological abuse that may or may not constitute criminal behavior, by a person who is a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, or person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim, is cohabitating, or has cohabitated, with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, shares a child in common with the victim or who commits acts against a youth or adult victim who is protected from those acts under the family or domestic violence laws of the jurisdiction.

- Dating violence: Violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship is determined by the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the people involved in the relationship.
- Stalking: A course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for their safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional distress.
- Female genital mutilation/cutting (FGM/C): FGM/C refers to procedures involving partial or total removal of female genitalia or other injury to female genital organs for any cultural, religious, or nontherapeutic purpose.
- Adult victim of child sexual abuse: A victim who is a legal adult over the age of 18 at the time they seek support services because they suffered any nonconsensual sexual act proscribed by federal, tribal, or state law when the victim lacked capacity to consent as a legal minor under the age of 18.
- Sex Trafficking: The recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision, obtaining, patronizing, or soliciting of a person for the purpose of a commercial sex act. Causing a person who has not attained the age of 18 years to engage in a commercial sex act regardless of consent.
- Labor Trafficking: The recruitment, harboring, transportation, provision, or obtaining of a person for labor or services, by force, fraud, or coercion for the purpose of subjection to involuntary servitude, peonage, debt bondage, or slavery.
- Economic abuse: Within the context of domestic, dating violence, and abuse in later life is behavior that is coercive, deceptive, or unreasonably controls or restrains a person's ability to acquire, use, or maintain economic resources to which they are entitled. This includes using coercion, fraud, or manipulation to restrict a person's access to money, assets, credit, or financial information; unfairly using a person's personal economic resources, including money, assets, and credit for one's own advantage, or exerting undue influence over a person's financial and economic behavior or decisions, including forcing default on joint or other financial obligations, exploiting powers of attorney, guardianship, or conservatorship, or failing or neglecting to act in the best interests of a person to whom one has a fiduciary duty.
- Technological abuse: An act or pattern of behavior that occurs within domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence or stalking and is intended to harm, threaten, control, stalk, harass, impersonate, exploit, extort, or monitor, except as otherwise permitted by law, another person that occurs using any form of technology, including but not limited to: internet enabled devices, online spaces and platforms, computers, mobile devices, cameras and imaging programs, apps, location tracking devices, or communication technologies, or any other emerging technologies.

- Forced marriage: A marriage to which one or both parties do not or cannot consent and in which one or more elements of force, fraud, or coercion is present. Forced marriage can be both a cause and a consequence of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking.

5. Describe how Justice for Families Program funds were used to serve victims who received grant-funded services for multiple victimizations.

For example, this space could be used to describe the prevalence of co-occurring victimizations in the community or the comprehensive wrap-around services the grantee provided victims who disclosed multiple victimization types.

6. Select all of the reasons primary victims who requested Justice for Families Program-funded services were partially or not served Indicate all programmatic reasons for partially served and not served victims. Reporting victims as partially served and not served does not reflect negatively on the agency. This information is being collected to identify unmet needs and barriers to service. OVW acknowledges that funded programs may not be able to serve all victims who request services.

Defining Reason Categories

- Conflict of interest: The program could not serve the victim because current or previous relationships with that victim or other parties related to that victim would interfere with the ability of the program to serve that victim. For example, a Justice for Families Program-funded counselor declined to work with a victim because of a prior non-professional relationship with the victim.
- Did not meet statutory requirements: The program could not serve the victim with the Justice for Families Program-funded service requested because the victim did not meet requirements of statute. For example, a victim requested help with a divorce, but did not meet statutory residency requirements to file for a divorce in the jurisdiction.
- Hours of operation: Hours during which the program provides services were not compatible with the hours the victim was available to receive requested services. For example, a victim was only available to receive counseling after 6pm due to their work schedule, but the program was closed after 5pm and could not provide the Justice for Families Program-funded counseling requested.
- Insufficient or lack of culturally appropriate services: Services currently provided under the grant are not culturally appropriate for the victim. For example, a victim requested a counselor with a particular ethnic background to incorporate cultural practices into the counseling, but the program did not have a staff member to meet that request and referred the victim to another program to best meet the needs of the victim.

- Insufficient or lack of agency capacity to provide language access (including sign language or assistive communication devices): Interpreter and/or translation services were not available when the victim requested to receive Justice for Families Program-funded services.
- Insufficient or lack of services for people with disabilities: The Justice for Families Program-funded services were not accessible to a victim with disabilities. For example, a Justice for Families Program-funded shelter has a rule against care attendants accompanying victims, and this prevented a victim with disabilities from being able to receive the Justice for Families Program-funded shelter services.
- Insufficient or lack of services for people who are D/deaf or hard of hearing: The services provided under the grant were not accessible to people who are D/deaf or hard of hearing.
- Lack of childcare: The victim was unable to receive requested Justice for Families Program-funded services because they needed childcare to attend/receive the Justice for Families Program-funded services but there was no childcare available.
- Program reached capacity: Program was operating at full capacity when a victim requested a Justice for Families Program-funded service. This includes instances where Justice for Families Program-funded staff caseloads were full and they could not accept additional clients, as well as instances when all available Justice for Families Program-funded shelter services were at capacity when a victim requested shelter.
- Program rules not acceptable to victim: A victim was technically eligible to receive a Justice for Families Program-funded service, but the victim was not willing to comply with rules of the program.
- Program unable to provide service due to limited resources/priority setting: Limited resources may include situations where the Justice for Families Program-funded activity was unavailable or entirely spent down. For example, the program had to turn down Justice for Families Program-funded transportation requests because the budget for that type of service was maxed out for the reporting period. Priority setting may include programmatic priorities set for types of cases staff will accept. For example, if the Justice for Families Program-funded legal advocate specializes in immigration matters and prioritizes those cases, and during the reporting period other types of cases were declined or referred to non-grant-funded staff or another agency.
- Services inappropriate or inadequate for people with mental health issues: Staff were not able, for any reason, to provide appropriate or adequate services for a victim with mental health problems. For example, the program did not have overnight staff, and the victim needed 24-hour supervision.
- Services inappropriate or inadequate for people with substance abuse issues: Staff were not able, for any reason, to provide appropriate or adequate services for a victim with substance abuse problems. For example, the Justice for Families

Program-funded staff were not trained in best-practices for supporting substance abuse issues in a clinical setting, and so a victim with substance abuse issues who was requesting Justice for Families Program-funded services was referred to another agency.

- Services otherwise not appropriate for victim: For any reason, the program determined that a Justice for Families Program-funded service being requested by a victim was not appropriate for the victim, perhaps for clinical reasons or programmatic reasons.
- Transportation: The victim was unable to arrange for transportation to receive Justice for Families Program-funded services. This includes situations in which public transportation is not available or could not be paid for with Justice for Families Program funds.
- Other: Describe any other reason for not serving that is not captured above.

Examples of Inappropriate “Other” Reasons for Partially or Not Served Victims

Below are examples of responses in the “other” category that indicate the victim should have been reported in a different category or should not have been reported at all.

Example 1: “Victim refused services”

This is an inappropriate “other” reason because it indicates that the victim chose not to request/accept Justice for Families Program-funded services. Victim choice to request and/or accept Justice for Families Program-funded services is one of the most important factors to consider whether or not to report them. If Justice for Families Program-funded victim services staff offered services and the victim refused the services or did not respond to accept any Justice for Families Program-funded services, do not count this victim at all in the Victim Services Section.

Example 2: “Service was not provided by our program”

This is an inappropriate “other” reason because the form is only interested in collecting data about services that were funded by the Justice for Families grant. Do not consider services that were funded by other sources. Only consider the program’s ability to provide the Justice for Families Program-funded services that a victim chose to request and/or accept when determining if the victim should be counted as served, partially served, or not served.

- If a victim only requested/accepted services that are not funded by the Justice for Families grant, do not count this victim at all in the Victim Services Section.
- If a victim requested/accepted a Justice for Families Program-funded service and received that service, report this victim as served. This is regardless of any service the victim requested/accepted that was not funded by the Justice for Families grant.

Example 3: “Could not locate victim”

This is an inappropriate “other” reason because it indicates that the victim chose to stop accepting/engaging in Justice for Families Program-funded services or that the victim chose not to accept/engage in Justice for Families Program-funded services.

- If the victim accepted some grant-funded services and then stopped accepting/engaging in Justice for Families Program-funded services, count this victim as served.

- If the victim indicated interest in accepting a Justice for Families Program-funded service but then never received any Justice for Families Program-funded services because they chose not to attend scheduled services or they chose not to answer phone calls, do not count this victim. The victim did not end up accepting Justice for Families Program-funded services.
- If the victim was placed on a waiting list for a Justice for Families Program-funded service they wanted to receive, and the program was not able to locate the victim at the time they would come off the waiting list (because the agency was then able to provide the service), report this victim as not served. Indicate “program reached capacity” in Victim Services Question 7 because the program was not able to provide the service when it was requested.

Example 4: “Victim withdrew”

This is an inappropriate “other” reason because it indicates that the victim chose to stop accepting/engaging in Justice for Families Program-funded services. Even though the agency might consider the services incomplete, the reporting form is asking about the victim’s choice to accept/receive Justice for Families Program-funded services.

- If the victim received as much of the Justice for Families Program-funded services as they wanted to accept, and then chose to withdraw from services, report this victim as served.
- If the victim initially indicated that they would accept/request Justice for Families Program-funded services, went through an intake process, and then chose to withdraw their request for services, do not report this victim. The victim did not end up accepting Justice for Families Program-funded services.

7. Describe why grant-funded services were not provided, including barriers/challenges your agency faced when providing Justice for Families Program-funded services, and how those barriers impacted victims/survivors.

8. Race/ethnicity

Report only on the victims reported as served and partially served. Do not report demographics for secondary victims.

Report victims in each category they identify as. At least one race/ethnicity must be reported for each victim reported as fully served and partially served. Those victims for whom race/ethnicity is not known should be reported in the “unknown” category. The total race/ethnicity reported must be equal to or greater than the number of victims reported as served and partially served.

9. Gender

Report victims in each category they identify as. At least one gender identity must be reported for each victim reported as fully and partially served. Those victims for whom the gender identity is not known should be reported in the “unknown” category. The total gender reported must be equal to or greater than the number of victims reported as served and partially served.

10. Age

Report the age of each victim reported as fully and partially served. Exactly one age must be reported for each victim reported as fully and partially served. Those victims for whom the age is not known should be reported in the “unknown” category. The total age reported must be equal to the number of victims reported as served and partially served.

11. Additional demographics

Report the number of victims who were served and partially served who identify with these additional demographics if they were willingly disclosed/identified by the victims. These additional demographics are not required.

- People who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, or queer (LGBTQ)
- People with disabilities: This may include people who are vision-impaired, people with developmental disabilities, and people with diagnosed mental illness.
- People whose primary language is not English: Individuals who do not speak English as their primary language and who have limited ability to read, write, speak, or understand English can be counted as having limited English proficiency.
- People who are D/deaf or hard of hearing: This includes individuals who identify with and participate in the language, culture, and community of Deaf people based on the use of sign language (Deaf); victims who identify within the audiological definition of severe to profound hearing loss and who don't have a cultural affiliation (deaf); and/or victims who identify with any degree of hearing loss from mild to profound and are committed to participate in society through the use of their residual hearing plus hearing aids, speechreading, and/or assistive technology to aid communication (hard of hearing).
- People who are immigrants/refugees/asylum seekers: This includes individuals who are/were immigrants/refugees/asylum seekers. This is not a question about immigration or legal status.
- People who live in rural areas: This includes individuals who live in a rural area or community. If unsure if an area is rural, any of the following definitions may be used: any area or community, respectively, no part of which is within an area designated as a standard metropolitan statistical area by the Office of Management and Budget, consistent with the U.S. Census; or any area or community, respectively, that is within an area designated as a metropolitan statistical area or considered as a part of a metropolitan statistical area and is located in a rural census tract; or any incorporated place or census-designated place with fewer than 2,500 inhabitants that is located outside an urbanized area.

12. Victim services

Based on the victims reported as served and partially served, report the number of primary victims who received Justice for Families Program-funded services during the current reporting period. Count each victim only once for each type of service that the victim received under the “Number of victims served” column.

Under the “Number of times service was provided” column, report the total number of times victims received the Justice for Families Program-funded service during the current reporting period. The total for each type of service under the “Number of victims served” column should not be higher than the total number of victims reported as served and partially served. Do not report secondary victims receiving services in this question. Legal assistance provided by a Justice for Families Program-funded attorney or paralegal should be reported in the Legal Services Section.

Service Definitions

- Civil legal advocacy/court accompaniment: Assisting a victim with civil legal issues, including preparing paperwork for protection orders; accompanying a victim to a protection order hearing or other civil proceeding; and all other advocacy within the civil justice system. This also includes accompanying a victim to an administrative hearing, such as unemployment, Social Security, TANF, or SNAP hearing.
- Counseling services/support group: Individual or group counseling or support provided by a volunteer, peer, or professional.
- Criminal justice advocacy/court accompaniment: Assisting a victim with criminal legal issues including notifying the victim of case status, hearing dates, plea agreements, and sentencing terms; preparing paperwork such as victim impact statements; accompanying a victim to a criminal court proceeding or law enforcement interview; and all other advocacy within the criminal justice system.
- Crisis intervention: Process by which a person identifies, assesses, and intervenes with an individual in crisis to restore balance and reduce the effects of the crisis in their life. Report crisis intervention that occurs in person and/or over the telephone.
- Culturally specific services: Any services specifically designed to meet the cultural preferences/ideologies of the population of victims, including culturally-specific counseling/therapy, culturally-specific support groups etc.
- Language services: Provision of interpretation and/or translation.
- Victim advocacy: Actions designed to help the victim obtain needed resources or services including employment, housing, shelter services, health care, victim's compensation, etc.
- Other: Services that are not covered in the above available categories. Justice for Families Program-funded activities that might be reported in the "other" category include holistic services and supervised visitation/exchange services.

13. Hotline support, information, and referral

Report the number of hotline requests received from primary victims and the total number of hotline requests received on phone lines paid for with Justice for Families Program funds or answered by Justice for Families Program-funded staff during the current reporting period. Do not report on agency-wide hotline calls. Hotline calls should not be reported as victims/survivors served or partially served unless they also received at least one of the services reported in Victim services questions.

Partially-funded hotline:

If grant funds are supporting a portion or percentage of the hotline budget, prorate the total hotline calls to reflect only the percentage of the budget supported by the Justice for Families Program funds.

Example 1:

A victim called the Justice for Families Program-funded hotline seeking information/referrals. Report this as 1 hotline call from a victim and include this in the total calls. The victim would not be reported in any other questions.

Example 2:

A parent of a victim called the Justice for Families Program-funded hotline and requested information about available services for their child. The hotline staff provided the parent with the information. This parent would be counted once under "Total number of requests."

When are hotline calls from victims reported as primary victims who received Justice for Families Program-funded support services?

If a victim called the Justice for Families Program-funded hotline and received Justice for Families Program-funded services beyond a simple referral, report that victim as a primary victim served in Victim Services Question 2.

Example 1:

A victim called the Justice for Families Program-funded hotline and requested information on available resources. While on the phone, the victim also received crisis intervention and victim advocacy. Since this victim received Justice for Families Program-funded services beyond a simple referral, report this victim as served in Victim Services Question 2.

14. Victim witness notification/unsolicited outreach to victims

Report the number of Justice for Families Program-funded victim witness notification and unsolicited outreach activities during the current reporting period. These activities include informing victims of the available support services and/or providing information about the criminal justice system. For these activities, the Justice for Families Program-funded agency is initiating the first contact with the victim. These victims might have been identified in police reports or court documents.

Victims who are the recipients of these notification/outreach activities should not be reported as victims served or partially served unless they also received at least one of the Justice for Families Program-funded services reported in the victim services or shelter services questions. If a victim who received these unsolicited notification/outreach activities chooses to request and/or accept at least one Justice for Families Program-funded service, then report that victim as a primary victim served in Victim Services Question 2.

Example 1:

A Justice for Families Program-funded outreach worker visited the homes of 10 victims during the current reporting period, providing them with information about available services. All ten victims choose not to accept or request any services. In this case, the program would only report 10 outreach activities in Victim Services Question 14. These victims would not be reported in any other questions because these victims did not accept any Justice for Families Program-funded services.

Example 2:

A local agency sent out 75 letters during the current reporting period to inform victims of services available to them and provide information about the criminal justice system. Of these victims, eight of them chose to request Justice for Families Program-funded legal advocacy services at the agency. In this situation, the program would report 75 victims as receiving unsolicited outreach in Victim Services Question 14. The eight victims that requested Justice for Families Program-funded services would also be reported in Victim Services Question 2 as victims who accepted and/or requested victim services.

15. Victim services staff assistance with protection orders

Report the total number of temporary and/or final protection orders granted that Justice for Families Program-funded victim services staff helped victims during the current reporting period. Include all orders having the force of law that are designed to protect the victim from contact with the offender during the pendency of the order. They may be referred to as protection from abuse orders, protection from harassment or anti-harassment orders, restraining orders, no-contact orders, or stay-away orders, and they may be criminal or civil. Temporary orders are generally issued ex parte, meaning without a court hearing, for a short period of time (e.g., 30 days), and final orders are issued after a court hearing for a longer period of time (e.g., two years).

Do not report on the work of Justice for Families Program-funded attorneys or paralegals in this question. If a Justice for Families Program-funded attorney or paralegal assisted victims with obtaining protection orders, report those activities in the Legal Services Section.

16. Discuss the effectiveness of victim services and legal services supported by your Justice for Families grant and to provide any additional information you would like to share.

For example, this space could be used to describe the promising practices Justice for Families Program-funded staff are implementing to respond to victims or how Justice for Families Program funds have impacted the agency's capacity to provide services.

Legal Services

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to provide legal services to victims during the current reporting periods?

Select "yes" if Justice for Families Program-funded staff (i.e., attorneys or paralegals) provided these services or Justice for Families Program funds were used to support these services during the current reporting period.

The VAWA 2022 reauthorization expanded the definition of legal assistance to cover assistance provided by attorneys, Board of Immigration Appeals (BIA) accredited representatives, Veterans' Affairs (VA) authorized representatives, and lay advocates in tribal court; and to include assistance in restorative practice processes and in post-conviction relief proceedings where conviction of a victim arose from the victimization.

All victims reported in the Legal Services Section must be reported in the Victim Services Section.

2. Number of victims who received assistance with legal issues.

Report an unduplicated count of victims who received assistance with at least one legal issue during the current reporting period. If a victim received assistance with more than one legal issue, count that individual once in this question and then also count that individual once in the following question. The number of victims reported as receiving assistance with legal issues cannot be greater than the number of victims reported as served and partially served in Victim Services Question 2.

3. Number of victims who received assistance with multiple legal issues.

Of the victims who received assistance with legal issues, report the number of victims who received assistance with more than one type of legal issue during the current reporting period. The total number of victims reported in this question cannot be greater than the total number of victims reported in Legal Services Question 2.

4. Legal issues

Under “Number of victims receiving legal assistance,” report the number of primary victims who received legal assistance from Justice for Families Program-funded attorneys or paralegals during the current reporting period. Count a victim once in each legal issue category for which they received assistance with Justice for Families grant funds.

Under “Number of cases closed or issues resolved,” report each case that was closed and each legal issue that was resolved during the current reporting period for which services were provided by Justice for Families Program-funded attorneys or paralegals. Do not include cases that are pending or were not yet closed during the reporting period. “Number of cases closed or issues resolved” may be less than “Number of victims receiving legal assistance.”

Example:

During the current reporting period, the Justice for Families Program-funded attorney began representing a victim of domestic violence in a divorce proceeding that included issues of child custody and child support, as well as a bankruptcy proceeding. The attorney also helped the victim obtain a final protection order against an acquaintance who was stalking her. The divorce, child custody, and child support matters were not resolved as of the end of the reporting period. This would be reported as (1) Protection orders, (1) Divorce, (1) Custody/visitation, (1) Child/spousal support, and (1) Consumer/finance under the “Number of victims receiving legal assistance” column. Then in the “Number of cases closed or issues resolved” (1) Protection orders and (1) Consumer/finance would be reported. The divorce, child custody, and child support matters would not be reported under “Number of cases closed or issues resolved” because those matters were not settled as of the end of the reporting period.

Supervised Visitation

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to provide supervised visitation and/or exchange services to families during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program funds were used to support supervised visitation and/or exchange services during the current reporting period.

2. Number of families served, partially served, and not served

Report the number of families who were fully served, partially served, and not served during the current reporting period. Only families seeking (or referred for) services you are funded to provide under the Justice for Families Program should be counted. This must be an unduplicated count for each 6-month reporting period but may include families reported in previous reporting periods if their services continued. Each family should only be counted once in this question, even if they sought services multiple times during the reporting period.

Defining Families Served, Partially Served, and Not Served

When determining how to report a family, consider their choice in accepting or receiving a Justice for Families Program-funded service.

- Families served: are those who received the grant-funded services they requested, if those grant-funded services were provided under your Justice for Families Program grant.
- Families partially served: are those who received some grant-funded service, but not all of the grant funded services they requested, if those grant-funded services were provided under your Justice for Families Program grant.
- Families seeking services who were not served: are those who sought grant-funded services and did not receive the grant-funded service(s) they requested, if those grant-funded services were provided under your Justice for Families Program grant.

Examples of how to determine if a family is served, partially served, or not served.

Example 1: Served

A family is referred for one-to-one supervised visitation and telephone monitoring services. You accept the family into your program and provide both services, which are funded under your Justice for Families Program grant. This family is reported as served, because during the current reporting period they received all the grant-funded services they requested.

Example 2: Served

A family requests supervised exchange services from your organization during the first month of the current reporting period. Grant-funded staff provide supervised exchanges for 4 months, but then the family stops coming. Grant-funded staff are unsuccessful in reaching the family by phone and mail. This family is reported as served because they received all the services they requested.

Example 3: Partially Served

Your program is grant-funded to provide supervised visitation and telephone monitoring. In the first month of the current reporting period a family is court-ordered to your program for 3 months of supervised visitation services. You can provide this service. During the last month of the reporting period the same family returns and requests telephone monitoring services but your program has reached capacity and does not have openings. This family is reported as partially served, because though they received the supervised visitation services initially requested, they did not receive the telephone monitoring requested later in the reporting period. For the entire 6-month reporting period, this family received some, but not all, of the grant-funded services they requested.

Example 4: Not Served

A family is referred by the court for one-to-one supervised visitation. You cannot provide supervised visitation due to insufficient staff. This family is reported as not Served, because you were unable to provide the requested grant-funded services.

Example 5: Not Served

A family is court-ordered to your grant-funded supervised visitation services. You have the staff and resources to provide this service. However, after conducting intakes with all the family your program determines that the non-custodial parent is a threat to both the children and program staff. This family is reported as not served, because your program is grant-funded to provide supervised visitation services and the family is willing to partake in these services, but you have decided not to accept the family into your program. You would then report in question 4.

3. Number of parents and children served or partially served

Based on the families reported in question 2, report the numbers of custodial parents, non-custodial parents, and children served and partially served.

4. Select all of the reasons families who requested Justice for Families Program-funded services were partially or not served:

Indicate all programmatic reasons for partially served and not served families reported as not served or partially served in question 2. Reporting victims as partially served and not served does not reflect negatively on the agency or grantee. This information is being collected to identify unmet needs and barriers to service. OVW acknowledges that funded programs may not be able to serve all victims who request services. Check all that apply.

- Client unwilling to agree with program rules: One or more family members is/are unwilling to agree with program rules and/or procedures, including attending appointments, providing required documents, etc.
- Conflict of interest: The program cannot serve the family because a current or previous relationship between a member of the family or other parties related to the family would interfere with the ability of the program to serve that family. For example, in a program with only one supervised visitation staff person, the staff person is the sister of the non-custodial parent seeking services.
- Hours of operation: Hours during which the program provides services are not compatible with the hours the family is available to receive requested services.

- Insufficient or lack of culturally appropriate services: The services available are not appropriate or adequately accommodating for a family due to cultural reasons.
- Insufficient of lack of agency capacity to provide language access (including sign language or assistive communication devices): Staff are not able to adequately communicate with the family due to language differences. Interpreter services are not available or are not available at the time the family is seeking services. The family may be placed on a waiting list to receive interpreter services but has not been served by the end of the current reporting period.
- Insufficient or lack of services for people with disabilities: The facility lacks accessibility or resources to appropriately serve people with disabilities. For example, a shelter does not allow a victim/survivor's male care attendant to accompany her to the shelter, which prevents her from being able to use shelter services.
- Parent(s) completed intake/orientation, but one parent chose not to begin services: One parent declined to accept a service offered by the program after intake had already been completed.
- Parent chose not to continue services: One or both parties stopped services.
- Party(ies) not accepted into program: One or more parties were not accepted into the program. Reasons include client unwilling to agree with program rules, provision of services is too dangerous, etc.
- Program reached capacity: The program is operating at full capacity. Families may be placed on a waiting list (but have not been served by the end of the current reporting period). The program may not be able to accommodate all of a family's requested grant-funded services.
- Services inappropriate or inadequate for people with mental health issues: Staff are not able, for any reason, to appropriately address mental health issues that may arise within the context of supervised visitation and/or exchange.
- Services inappropriate or inadequate for people with substance use issues: Staff are not able, for any reason, to provide appropriate or adequate services for families with substance abuse problems that may arise within the context of supervised visitation and/or exchange.
- Services not appropriate for party(ies): For any reason, the services available under the grant are not appropriate for one or more parties.
- Transportation: One or more parties are unable to arrange for transportation to the program. This includes situations in which public transportation is available but cannot be paid for or the program cannot provide transportation.
- Other: If due to unusual circumstances, the reasons listed above do not capture the reason the family was partially served or not served, describe that reason here.

Below are examples of responses in the "Other" category that indicate the family should have been classified differently or should not have been counted in this section.

Example 1: Not Counted

A family is court-ordered to your program for grant-funded supervised visitation services. You conduct a two-hour intake with the custodial parent and provide her with a variety of referrals and informational materials about domestic violence. The non-custodial parent never shows up for his intake, and your program is not able to provide supervised visitation services to this family. This family would not be counted (reported) at all in question 2 because while your program was willing and able to provide the services, the family never received supervised visitation (or any grant-funded) services.

Example 2: Not Counted

A family is court-ordered to your program for grant-funded supervised visitation services. You conduct separate 2-hour intakes with the custodial parent and the non-custodial parent, and provide the custodial parent with a variety of referrals and safety planning. However, the family does not show up for supervised visitation and receives no other services. This family would not be counted (reported) at all in question 2 because while your program was willing and able to provide the services, the family never received supervised visitation (or any grant-funded) services. Intakes, referrals, and safety planning do not qualify as services for the purposes of reporting a family as served or partially served.

5. Services provided with Justice for Families Program funds

Based on the families reported as served and partially served in question 2, report the number of families who received Justice for Families Program-funded services during the current reporting period. Count each family only once for each type of service that they received under the “Number of families served” column.

Under the “Number of times service was provided” column, report the total number of times families received the Justice for Families Program-funded service during the current reporting period. The total for each type of service under the “Number of families” served column should not be higher than the total number of families reported as served and partially served in question 2.

Courts

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to support court activities during the current reporting period?

If Justice for Families Program funds were used for court activities during the current reporting period, select “yes.”

2. Disposition of criminal cases

Report the disposition of sexual assault, domestic violence/dating violence, and/or stalking cases resolved during the current reporting period, including dismissals, deferred adjudications, convictions, and acquittals.

Determining case type:

Misdemeanor and felony domestic violence cases may include any assaults, battery, vandalism, or other offenses that occurred in a domestic violence incident. State law or tribal code does not have to name the offense “domestic violence” for the case to be counted here. Similarly, report cases addressing sexual assault and stalking offenses, even if state law or tribal code uses other names for these types of offenses, such as “sexual battery” or “harassment.”

Defining Dispositions

- Dismissed: Report cases that were dismissed.
- Deferred adjudication: Report cases for which there was a deferred adjudication. Deferred adjudication is a process in which the judge requires the defendant to adhere to certain terms prior to any adjudication of guilt. If a defendant successfully fulfills those terms, the case against that defendant is usually dismissed.
- Convicted: Report cases for which there was a conviction.
- Acquitted: Report cases in which the offender was acquitted.

3. Judicial monitoring

Report the number of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking offenders whose cases were reviewed by the court for compliance with conditions of probation or other court-ordered conditions, or for violations of those conditions. Also report the total number of review hearings conducted. The number of review hearings is the number of individual hearings held for each offender, even when that offender is reviewed during the same monitoring sessions as other offenders.

Example:

During the current reporting period, 10 offenders were reviewed at the same three sessions. The number of offenders reviewed would be 10, and the number of review hearings conducted would be 10 multiplied by 3, or 30.

4. Indicate if Justice for Families Program funds were used by the courts to provide victims with following information:

Report the types of information routinely provided to victims using Justice for Families Program funds by checking all that apply.

- Available resources
- The legal process
- How to obtain/enforce a no-contact order
- Status of case
- Sentencing/probation conditions

Example:

If the Justice for Families Program-funded court personnel explain the legal process to every victim they support, as well as provide regular case status updates to them, the grantee would check off “The legal process” and “Status of case.”

5. Describe how Justice for Families Program funds were used by the courts to support victims through the criminal justice system

Some examples of topics that could be addressed here include:

- The number of victim referrals made to governmental and/or non-governmental services;
- Feedback collected from victims post-service; or
- Expedited case resolution/disposition of felony domestic violence and sexual assault cases because of Justice for Families grant funds.

6. Civil protection orders

Report the total number of temporary protection orders and final protection orders granted for victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking during the current reporting period in the court receiving funds under the Justice for Families grant. Include all orders having the force of law that are designed to protect the victim from contact with the offender during the pendency of the order. They may be referred to as protection from abuse orders, protection from harassment or anti-harassment orders, or restraining orders. Temporary orders are generally issued ex parte, meaning without a court hearing, for a short period of time (e.g., 30 days), and final orders are issued after a court hearing for a longer period of time (e.g., two years). Civil protection orders are those requested by the plaintiff.

7. Criminal protection orders

Report the total number of criminal protection orders granted for victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking during the current reporting period in the court(s) receiving funds under the Justice for Families grant. Include all orders having the force of law that are designed to protect the victim from contact with the offender during the pendency of the order. They may be referred to as “no-contact” or “stay-away” orders. Generally, these orders are requested by the prosecutor’s office, do not require the victim to appear in court, and are effective only while the criminal case is active. Criminal protection orders may be issued as a condition of bail or probation.

8. Discuss the effectiveness of court activities supported by your Justice for Families Program grant and to provide any additional information you would like to share.

Use the space provided to discuss the effectiveness of court activities funded or supported by Justice for Families Program funds. Examples, data, or any other information about court activities that has not already been provided can be included here.

Probation and Parole

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to support probation and parole activities during the current reporting period?

Select “yes” if Justice for Families Program funds were used for probation and parole activities during the current reporting period. Provide information only for Justice for Families Program-funded probation and parole activities engaged in during the current reporting period.

2. Number of offenders monitored

Report the total number of offenders charged with sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking for which a Justice for Families Program-funded probation or parole officer provided supervision. This is an unduplicated count. Report the number of offenders who completed supervision.

3. Monitoring activities

For offenders reported, report the number of the monitoring activities engaged in during the current reporting period. Report only those offenders who were monitored using the specific activity under “Number of offenders.” Report the total number of contacts for all offenders for the specific activity under “Total contacts.” The total number of contacts for each activity must be at least equal to the number of offenders for each activity.

Defining “monitoring activity”:

- Face-to-face meeting: The probation or parole officer had regularly scheduled (e.g., once or twice a week) in-person meetings with the offender, consistent with terms of probation.
- Telephone contact: The probation or parole officer had regularly scheduled or unscheduled contact with the offender by telephone.
- Unscheduled surveillance: The probation or parole officer observed specific locations (e.g., victim’s home, offender’s workplace) or monitored the whereabouts of the offender with or without the offender’s prior knowledge.
- Electronic monitoring: The probation or parole officer observes the offender’s movements and location through electronic monitoring.

Example

The Justice for Families Program-funded probation officer had a total caseload of 30 offenders. During the current reporting period, the probation officer had face-to-face contact 10 times each with 20 offenders. The officer also had monthly telephone contact with 10 offenders. The grantee would report 20 offenders in the “face-to-face meeting with offender” category for a total of 200 “total contacts” (10 x 20) and would also report 10 offenders in the “telephone contact with offender” category for a total of 60 “total contacts” (6 x 10).

4. Indicate if Justice for Families Program funds were used by probation and parole to provide victims with following information:
 - Available resources
 - The legal process
 - How to obtain/enforce a no-contact order
 - Status of case
 - Sentencing/probation conditions

Report the types of information routinely provided to victims using Justice for Families Program funds by checking all that apply.

For example, if the Justice for Families Program-funded probation and offender monitoring staff explain the legal process to every victim they support, as well as provide regular case status updates to them, the grantee would check off “The legal process” and “Status of case.”

5. Describe how Justice for Families Program funds were used by probation and parole staff and/or activities to support victims through the criminal justice system.

For example, this space could be used to describe the number of victim referrals, or the number of contacts program funded staff had with victims and how those interactions went.

6. Discuss the effectiveness of probation and/or parole activities supports by your Justice for Families Program grant and provide any additional information you would like to share. This space can be used to provide detailed examples, data, or any other information about probation or parole activities that has not already been provided.

Abuser Intervention Program

1. Were Justice for Families Program funds used to support abuser intervention programs during the current reporting period?

If your Justice for Families Program funds directly supported abuser intervention programs/activities during the current reporting period, select “yes.”

2. Offenders in program

Report the total number of offenders in the Justice for Families Program-funded abuser intervention program during the current reporting period.

3. Outcomes

Report the total number of offenders in the Justice for Families Program-funded program who successfully completed the program, who were terminated from the program, and who returned to the program after termination during the current reporting period.

4. Describe the model your Justice for Families funded intervention program uses.

Provide detailed information about the Abuser Intervention Program model being implemented.

Narrative

Resources for Crafting Narrative:

Grantees may choose to review the Crafting Narratives Training Video available on the VAWA MEI website. This training video discusses the ways that OVW uses narrative data, describes best practices for documenting activities and writing compelling narratives, and provides narrative examples taken straight from real grantee reports.

For additional examples of grantee narrative data, access the Examples of Grantee Narrative Data document available on the VAWA MEI website. This document includes a detailed section outlining the many uses and impact of narrative data.

Never Include Personally Identifiable Information

When writing about the impact of funding and services, never include any information about victims/clients that would allow them to be identified. For example, never include a person’s name, address, birth date, case numbers, or anything else in the performance report anywhere. Doing so would breach the person’s rights to confidentiality and privacy.

How is narrative data used?

- Monitoring: Each OVW Program Specialist has the responsibility to track grantee's progress and compliance both financially and programmatically. Narrative data supports OVW in monitoring how funds were spent.

- Understanding Numerical Data: The narrative data grantees provide can give context and story to the numerical data reported. Narrative fields can be used to explain an increase or a decrease in a certain Justice for Families Program-funded activity, or a staff vacancy. This can also allow VAWA MEI to identify possible misunderstandings in the numerical data and provide support and technical assistance.
- Biennial Report to Congress: OVW is required by statute to report to Congress on the use of VAWA funds. These reports to Congress include both aggregate numbers and highlights from narrative data. Quotes from narrative data help tell the story behind the numbers. These quotes can highlight successes, difficulties, barriers to providing services, and needs for policy and legislation.

1. Report on the status of your Justice for Families Program grant goals and objectives as of the end of the current reporting period.

This question is required.

Briefly report on the status of the goals and objectives for your Justice for Families grant as of the end of the current reporting period. Your goals and objectives should be those identified in your grant proposal or as revised. Indicate whether the activities related to your objectives for the current reporting period have been completed, are in progress, are delayed or have been revised. Comment on your successes and challenges and provide any additional explanation you feel is necessary for us to understand what you have or have not accomplished relative to your goals and objectives.

If you have not accomplished objectives that should have been accomplished during the current reporting period, you must provide an explanation.

Example:

A completed grant goals and objectives question:

- Objective: Coordinate the sharing of information concerning domestic violence and sexual assault offenses on the reservation with local law enforcement agencies.
- Activity: Hire data specialist to create tracking system for sharing information
- Status: Delayed.
- Comments: We hired someone who left the position because of a family emergency six weeks after they were hired. We are interviewing new candidates and hope to have someone in the position by the next reporting period.

2. What do you see as the most significant areas of remaining need, with regard to improving services to victims/survivors, increasing victims/survivors' safety, and enhancing community response (including offender accountability)?

This question is required for the January-June reporting period.

Describe any significant remaining areas of need. Consider geographic regions, jurisdictional issues, service delivery systems, types of victimizations, and challenges and barriers unique to your service area.

Responses must be limited to 8,000 characters.

3. What has the Justice for Families funding allowed you to do that you could not do prior to receiving this funding?

This question is required for the January-June reporting period.

Use this space to describe anything Justice for Families Program funding has enabled the grantee to do that could not be done before receiving the grant funding.

Responses must be limited to 8,000 characters.

4. Provide additional information regarding the effectiveness of your grant-funded program.

This question is optional and strongly encouraged.

Use this space to describe any topics such as promising practices the Justice for Families Program-funded program used or relationship building among community partners.

Responses must be limited to 8,000 characters.

Example:

Our Justice for Families Program-funded victim advocate served on a task force examining ways the criminal justice system could be more responsive to victims/survivors of sexual assault. As a result, a Sexual Assault Response Team was implemented on the reservation with protocols for forensic exams with a local hospital.

5. Provide any additional information that may provide explanation about the data submitted.

This question is optional.

If you have any information that could be helpful in understanding the data you have submitted in this report, please answer this question.

Responses must be limited to 8,000 characters.

Example:

- If one agency submitted two different progress reports for the same reporting period, explain how the data was divided between the two reports;
- If the Justice for Families Program-funded staff were not able to conduct the expected activities due to things such as illness, FMLA, or other extended leave;
- If the agency receiving funds did not use Justice for Families Program funds to support staff or activities during the reporting period, please explain how the funds were used; or
- If the grantee was not able to obtain data to answer a required question.
